

Launch of the Digital Periegesis

Wednesday, 3 December 2025, 10 to 11 am at The Swedish Institute at Athens

We are delighted to invite you to the official Athens launch of the Digital Periegesis (periegesis.org). This online resource, hosted and maintained by Uppsala University, provides a searchable database of all the places and objects in space described in Pausanias, as well as the people and events mentioned. In addition, the Digital Periegesis provides raw data; side-by-side enriched texts of the Periegesis in both ancient Greek and English; maps of the places described and network graphs of their relations; and links to global authorities, such as Wikidata. In this way, the Digital Periegesis gives researchers access to authoritative data and the use of the latest tools for analyzing Pausanias's narrative and empowers general enthusiasts to explore the places and accounts associated with them for themselves.

All welcome! There will be coffee and cake.

Please confirm your participation by email to info@periegesis.org.

Team:

Anna Foka (Uppsala University)

Elton Barker (Open University)

Brady Kiesling (ToposText, Swedish Institute at Athens)

Kyriaki Konstantinidou (Institute for Mediterranean Studies, Swedish Institute at Athens)

Linda Talatas (Swedish Institute at Athens)

